FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1894.

A Kentucky mare took first prize as a saddler at the National Horse Show at New York last week.

The report of Secretary Morton will show a saving of $600,000 during the last year in the expenses of the Department of Agriculture.

The day after Col. Sam Stairs and Mrs. Mary S. Grove were married the bride purchased the outfit of the Dover News from A. F. Curran and gave it to Mr. Stairs.

Indiana Republicans make no secret of their purpose to gerrymander the remains of the Democratic party in that State into as few Democratic legislative and congressional districts as possible.

The Board of Appeals of the Pension Bureau, which found nearly 5,000 delayed cases on the docket at the beginning of this Administration, has disposed of these and 5,947 additional cases. The docket is now clear, and appeals which were formerly delayed two years are now promptly decided.

Bids for the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds aggregate $154,570,900, most of them being at a premium which makes the interest less than 3 per cent. A syndicate consisting of the United States Trust Company, Drexel, Morgan & Co. and others offers to take the entire issue at 117.077. This is exceeded by only about $10,000,000 of other bids. There were 297 bids received. The Government's credit was never better than in these Democratic times—with apologies to the late election.—C. J.

The news of the capture of Port Arthur by the Japanese army has been fully confirmed. It was a victory that added to the weight of testimony in favor of the skill and courage of the invaders. They had no siege guns, and the fortress was considered one of the strongest in China and was defended by a large body of the Emperor's best troops, yet the task of reducing it has been accomplished by the Japanese army very little. Military experts regard the performance as remarkable and as likely to lead to a speedy end of the war. The loss on both sides was heavy. That of the Chinese is reported at 20,000.—C. J.

Looking Forward.

Carlisle Mercury: The meeting of Congress week after next will be like the gathering of departed spirits. Tom Reed will walk about like a wicked demon, grinning at the unhappy ones. The Kentucky delegation will be engaged as follows: Breckinridge will be trying to dry himself by the fire; Montgomery, Caruth and Stone will be trying to pick the fiery darts out of their mangled bodies; McCrory will be trying to shield his oil barrel from the heat; Berry will be doing his level best to turn the waters of the Licking into the furnace; Goodnight and Ellis will be glad they did not tempt the fates, and Tom Paynter will be sitting on a block of ice with a fan in his hand. Silas Adams will feel so bad the devil will not have the heart to do more to him.

Immortal Party.

The leading Republican paper of St. Louis said a few days ago:

For many years, during the civil war and the reconstruction period, the Democratic party appeared to be at death's door and its obituary was often written, but it rallied eventually, captured the House of Representatives in 1874, the Senate four years later, and the Presidency in 1884. A party which survived secession may well be considered immortal. Its extinction for such a venial folly, comparatively speaking, as a blunder on the tariff is so grotesquely improbable that even the most despondent Democrat will laugh at the notion a year or two hence. No party has a monopoly of the popular favor. Power brings responsibilities which no organization ever yet formed was able to meet satisfactorily always.

The Innocent Often Suffer for the Guilty.

Before the war it was customary, among the people living along the Ohio River, to load long covered flat boats with potatoes, apples, onions, corn, beans, whisky and in fact nearly all kinds of produce, and send them down south. The southern planters, at that time, raised scarcely anything except cotton and sugar, and depended almost wholly upon the Middle States for all they ate.

A young man who lived near Guyandott, now in West Virginia, usually made a trip each year, with what was known as a "New Orleans Boat" loaded with produce. He usually went as far as New Orleans. After a time, he became quite well acquainted with many of the people of that city. Among whom was a young lady whom he learned to love as his own life. Finally the two agreed to blend their fortunes together in matrimony. But the old adage is often too true. "There is may a slip between the cup and the lip."

One night while the young man was walking along one of the streets, he heard, in an alley, the plaintive cry, murder! murder! Like a noble, true Virginian he rushed into the alley to relieve the unknown one who was in distress. He discovered two villains plunging their daggers into the man who shrieked for help. As he came upon the scene, the two villains ran away into the darkness, leaving their fallen victim sweltering in his blood. The sympathizing young man reached downward and pulled out one of the daggers which was remaining in the dying man's body. An officer not far away, heard the cry, murder! in the alley, and came up at the same instant the young man drew the dagger from the body. There being no one else in sight except the dying man and the young Virginian, the officer came to the conclusion that the young man, who stood with the bloody dagger in his hand, was the murderer and proceeded to arrest him as such. For many long months the young man lay in prison. Finally, through the unquestionable proof of good character, he was pardoned. During his imprisonment, the girl whom he loved so earnestly, regarded him as a murderer and married another man. The pressure was so great upon the mind of the young man, that he became a raving maniac and died in the asylum. So ended the life of a worthy, innocent young man.

The foregoing seems to illustrate a great political fact of the present day. In 1892 the cry of "murder" was heard in one of the alleys of the city of Washington. From all parts of the country the Democratic party, in a great mass, rushed to the scene. They found Uncle Sam stabbed and robbed, and discovered the enemy, the Republican party, sneaking away into the darkness. The wounds upon the person of Uncle Sam were not fatal, yet they were of a serious nature, and it required many months to heal the deep wounds which had been inflicted. In the body was found the cut of McKinleyism which reached almost to the heart. In another place the Federal Election Law. In another the Silver Purchasing Bill. In fact all over the body were found wounds and cuts. The great Democratic Physicians of the day proceeded to dress the ugly wounds and restore health to the patient as rapidly as possible. But great physicians often disagree in a case. No doubt the patient would have recovered more rapidly had Drs. Hill, Brice and others been in harmony with the rest. But they refused to use what the others thought were the best remedies and the result was that the patient lingered for many months until the people, who stood outside the Hospital awaiting the news, became tired and uneasy.

Many days and sleepless nights passed while the patient's health greatly improved, yet he had not fully recovered. In 1894 the perpetrators of this infamous crime went among the people and started the report that the Democratic party had inflicted those dreadful wounds upon the person of Uncle Sam, and like the Jews of old, when Christ was before Pilate, they cry "crucify them! crucify them!" They rush in and find the Democratic party in possession of the bruised body and charge it with the crime which they, themselves, had committed.

It may require many months to introduce the proof and show to the American people who committed this great crime.

Many of us expect to live to see the Democratic party fully rewarded and the Republicans, who are guilty of this crime, fully punished by being cast away into outer darkness where there'll be weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth.

"MACBETH."

SPECIMEN CASES.

S. M. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism. His stomach was deranged, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite failed away, and he was tormented by pains in the head and limbs. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound as a bell. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had large fever sores on his leg doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at A. M. Hughes' Dispensary.

Intemperance.

Intemperance is a growing evil, even in this Christian country, and its awful effects are being felt by the church and state. It is the great arch-fiend of humanity that is robbing our country of the service of many who, but for the use of strong drink, could wield boundless influence as the representatives of the people in suppressing evil and propagating good. It is filling our country with all forms of crime and populating our county jails and state prisons with motley crowds of murderous criminals. It is crowding our almshouses with paupers, and mocking the distressing cries for bread of the widows and orphans. It has made and is taunting noble men in others and children with empty stores in the land of plenty.

The church, too, is suffering and the world's Redeemer is being retarded by the baneful effects of alcoholic drinks. Thousands of precious souls are being lost to the church, lost to the world, lost to home circle, lost to virtue, and lost to all that is pure, lovely and good by the murderous hand of intemperance. It has been estimated that 1,000,000 of human beings die annually from the effects of strong drink.

What a host of deathless souls to roll down the fiery stream of death every year into the lake of eternal burnings! Then shall we not raise the battle cry against this foe, and press on to victory until the enemy shall lie dead and harmless at our feet? We should instruct our people upon this subject and teach them to discourage the use or sale of all intoxicating drinks as beverages among the citizens of our country. And this we recognize as the more important because the advocates of intemperance are exerting their utmost power by quotations from scripture sadly perverted to sustain their cause. Tracts are being circulated with an array of scriptural texts to prove that the Bible directs the use of wines and other intoxicants. As ministers of the gospel it behooves us to counteract this pernicious influence.

These false theories must be confronted and overcome by the church. The sword which these false teachers have grasped must be wrested from them and turned upon them. We suggest that every member of the church make a specialty of temperance wherever he goes. We suggest that good temperance tracts be circulated among our people. It is a humiliating fact that some church members engage in dram drinking and even get drunk. Such persons should be dealt with tenderly and mercifully, faithfully and promptly, for their

The war between Japan and China is about ended. The United States will act as adjuster of the differences.

How They Got There.

J. Edward Addicks, the wealthy Delaware gas man who is claiming Mr. Higgins' seat in the United States Senate by right of purchase, is not at all backward in the matter. He declares that he carried Delaware with his money—that he paid the poll taxes of the voters, organized them and supplied funds wherever needed, expending in this way between $50,000 and $100,000. Steve Elkins has similar claims upon the senatorship from West Virginia, and Sewell, of New Jersey, thinks he has bought Senator McPherson's seat. Already the flush Republican times seem returning, especially in the senatorial industry.—Courier Journal.

Jesse Young, M. F. Gambill, Wm. Carey, Eli Sloan and G. W. Gunnell have been appointed as Supervisors of the tax lists. Their work will begin the first Monday in January. Upon the manner in which their work is accomplished depends the result of our valuations in the hands of the Board of Equalization. It may not be generally known that the County Clerk is required to send the Board of Equalization a complete list of the transfers of property in the county during the year, with the selling price of each piece and the valuations given to the Assessor by the holders of the same property. Upon the discrepancy in the two values the Board acts. Therefore, it is important that the purchase price and the assessed value of property should be as nearly equal as possible.

Reports from Tug river snag boat give evidence of good work being done on that stream. The boat has been as far as the mouth of Pond Creek, deepening and widening shoals, removing obstructions and doing much to improve the navigation of that fork of Big Sandy.

On Saturday last the crew was at work near Lost Creek, and had done much to improve that very bad spot. There is a large mass of rock there which has long been a terror to raftmen, but under the supervision of Captain McHenry the work now being done there will rob the point of its former difficulties. At one blast over one hundred and forty-eight yards of stone were blasted out and carried away. Such work as this is in the nature of permanent improvement.

Mr. J. C. Butler is also doing splendid work on the Levisa fork, but we have no detailed report from his work.

Trimble for State Treasurer.

Mr. James Trimble, cashier of the Cattelites National Bank, has about decided to become a candidate for the nomination of State Treasurer subject to the action of the Democratic party. Should Mr. Trimble fully decide to make the race he could easily go to the convention with twenty or twenty-five instructed counties, and should he receive the nomination we predict that in 1895 the largest Democratic vote ever polled in North-eastern Kentucky will fall for him. He would certainly be a valuable man both on the ticket and in the office.—Kentucky Democrat.

Hurrah for Trimble!

BLACK CHARGES.

A Serious Case, If It Be True.

A. J. Walker, aged about fifty years, was on last Wednesday placed in jail at this place for an attempted outrage upon a little daughter of Allen Thornhill, not quite ten years of age. The examining trial will be held to-day.

If the charges be proved they will show Walker to be a fiend so black as to deserve the severest punishment.

He is a skiff builder who has lived three or four miles above Louisa for the past few years. Thornhill is a neighbor.

Two Bound Over.

The cases of Farway Price, Elliott Preston and M. C. Kirk, referred to in the News last week, came up before U. S. Commissioner Stewart Tuesday and Wednesday and resulted in the two former being held to answer at United States Court and the latter acquitted. The charge was that they had unlawfully used the mails in recommending Wild Hall as a reliable man in order to assist him in defrauding business men. The bond of Price was fixed at $750 and that of Preston at $1000, and both gave bond.

Tobacco Up Sandy.

Reports from the upper counties say that tobacco raising will be largely engaged in up there next year. Preparations are already beginning, which fact speaks well for the project. There is nothing more important than beginning in time.

This is the beginning of a new era for the Sandy Valley. The timber is almost exhausted and the people must depend principally upon farming for a livelihood. Then, to find the most profitable crop is the point. There can be no doubt about tobacco being a profitable crop where the soil is adapted to it, and there is no doubt about this latter point. The experiment in this county has resulted most satisfactorily and the more enterprising and ambitious class of our farmers will plant crops next year.

Assaulted.

On Saturday, November 24th, as I was traveling up Paddle creek in Wayne county, W. Va., I was waylaid by two young men, who attempted to take me out of my buggy. When I found that they were about to strike me with a large club I jumped out of my buggy and gathered some rocks with which to defend myself. Just then two girls came up and the parties seeing them turned and ran away. They were both young men. One was of fair complexion, smooth face, and wore a small black hat. The other was dark, with black mustache, and wore a broad brimmed white hat. Such characters should be suppressed at once.

Railroad Commissionership.

CARLEISLE, KY., Nov. 24, 1894. To the Democrats of the Third R. R. District:

Dear Sirs—I have been asked several times since the late election if I was still a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner.

I desire to say that I am still a candidate for the nomination. I am a Democrat, and believe in maintaining the organization of my party, and no landslide or temporary defeat effects my Democracy.

I was a candidate when things were bright, and am still a candidate when things do not look so rosy.

I would be pleased to have your support in the County and District Conventions, and am willing to do my part in making a contest next year, and next year, and next year, until we regain all the ground we have lost.

Yours, &c.,

G. R. KELLER.

SEDERBURY CALLINGS at sometime or other bring on a torpid liver. This condition is common to an indolent life; then there follows another condition, anemia or lack of blood; frequently another worse effect—that of dyspepsia. These conditions aggravate one another. Your last temper is likewise aggravating to your friends. No need to go further, the rest is easy. If you buy a box of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets you'll find them a natural, strengthening effect upon the lining membranes of stomach and bowels, hence their effect is lasting. The best medical testimony proves that these cases are best treated by mild methods. One tiny, sugar-coated, Pellet is a cathartic, a regulator, and a gentle laxative. They are put up in glass vials, easily carried and always fresh. They are guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is returned.

DEATH OF HOPKINS.

Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note, As his corpse from the polls was carried.

Not a Hopkins man stood on his guard At the polls where poor "Hop" was buried.

We buried him slowly, from morn 'til night, As the leaves of November (6th), were falling,

By the ample rays of the Solar light, Beyond any chance of recalling.

No useless casket enclosed his remains, Not in sheets, or flags, we wound him,

But he lay like a soldier that has got his dose, With his heart-broken friends around him.

Many and loud were the prayers they said, Over the grave of their lost director, And we gently pushed them out of sight,

To make room for Kendall and Beckner.

We knew as the returns from Knott came in, All his chance and hopes to smother.

Will the great Judge Bradley now dance with gloe, On the grave of his long lost brother.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, whereby it destroys the cause of the disease, and gives the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials. Address, F. J. Harpe's Weekly
 In 1895
 Harpe's Weekly is a pictorial history of the times. It presents every important event promptly, accurately, and exhaustively in illustration and descriptive text of the highest order.
 The manner in which, during 1894, it has treated the Chicago Railway Strikes and the China Japan War, and the amount of light it was able to throw on Korea the instant attention was directed to that little known country, are examples of its almost boundless resources. Julian Ralph, the distinguished writer and correspondent, has been sent to the seat of war, and there joined by C. D. Weldon, the well known American artist, now for many years resident in Japan, who has been engaged to cooperate with Mr. Ralph in sending to Harpe's Weekly exclusive information and illustrations.
 During 1895 every vital question will be discussed with vigor and without prejudice in the editorial columns, and also in special articles by the highest authorities in each department. Portraits of the men and women who are making history, and powerful and caustic political cartoons, will continue to be characteristic features. This Busy World, with its keen and timely comment on the lesser doings of the day, will remain a regular department.
 Fiction. There will be two powerful serials, both handsomely illustrated: The Red Cockade, a stirring romance of olden days by Stanley J. Weyman, and a novel of New France, entitled The Son of the Father, by Brandt Matthews—several novelettes, and many short stories by popular writers.
 Send for Illustrated Prospectus.

The Volumes of the Weekly begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.
 Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1 each. Title page and Index sent on application.

Harper's Magazine
 In 1895
 The Simpletons, a new novel by Thomas Hardy, will be begun in the December Number, 1894, and continued to Nov. 1895. Whoever may be one's favorite among English novelists, it will be conceded by all critics that Thomas Hardy stands foremost as a master artist in fiction, and the Simpletons may be expected to arouse enthusiasm in not inferior degree to that which has marked Trebly—the most successful story of the year. Another leading feature will be the Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc, by the Sieur Louis de Conte, Her Page and Secretary, under which guise the most popular of living American magazine writers will present the story of the maid of Orleans. In the January Number will appear a profusely illustrated paper on Charlevoix and the Carolinas, the first of a series of Southern Papers.
 Northern Africa is attracting more attention than at any other time, since it was the seat of empires. The next volume of Harper's Magazine will contain four illustrated articles on this region, and three of them will depict the present life there. Julian Ralph will prepare for the Magazine a series of eight stories, depicting typical phases of Chinese Life and Manners. Besides the long stories, there will begin in the January Number the first chapters of A Three-Part Novel, by Richard Harding Davis—the longest work yet attempted by this writer. Complete short stories by popular writers will continue to be a feature of the Magazine.
 Sent for Illustrated Prospectus.

The Volumes of the Magazine begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions at the time of receipt of order. Cloth cases, for binding, 9 cents each—by mail, postpaid. Title page and Index sent on application.
